Awakened Life is the center of The Open Source, a network of Zen communities in the western United States. Awakened Life emphasizes companionship on the Way, authentic American expressions of Zen, and the confluence of koans and creativity. It sponsors a year-round schedule of weekly one-day, weekend, and weeklong programs and retreats centered on meditation, koans, and community life.

Joan Sutherland, Roshi is a Zen teacher in the koan tradition, deeply interested in how ways of meditation and inquiry developed over thousands of years become sources of creativity and awakening in peoples' lives today. She holds frequent meditation, koan, and artists' retreats; her work appears often in Shambhala Sun and Buddhadharma, and she is currently working on new translations from the Chinese of three major koan collections. She lives in Santa Fe, New Mexico, where she teaches through Awakened Life, and she is the founding teacher of The Open Source.
